A Death-Watch.

Hush! Still your voice in silent prayer!
The life is passing from a soul,
That o'er itself has no control,
Up in that lighted chamber there;

And gathered in a gloomy ring,
Friends and relations stand around,
Whose thoughts but grovel on the ground,
Whose hopes are ever on the wing.

A death-watch in that room they keep;
And every eye is turned on one
Whose mortal race is all but run,
Slow sinking to eternal sleep.

No word is breathed around the bed,
Since looks the place of words supply,
As thoughts transmitted through the eye
Become so easy to be read.

Like beings in a trance they seem—
The mourners standing thus impressed
With the sad silence and the rest;
And they will wake as from a dream—

Will wake to find it is not such,
What time the mourned resigns her breath,
Confides in Life's associate, Death,
And stiffens 'neath his icy touch.

THE ALMIGHTY DOLLAR.—To get rich seems to be the desire which takes precedence of of all others. It affects all people alike, whether they are Christians or Infidels. They agree in this matter, even if they differ in everything else. It becomes a question, then, of some importance, as all desire to grow rich, whether there is any way of obtaining riches. There is! and it is within the reach of everybody who is disposed to follow it. He may not become a millionaire, but he can get to be a thousandaire (if we may use the expression), and a thousand dollars would be a large sum to many a poor man. The reason, probably, why more do not become rich is, they do not pursue the right course, which is as follows, and which is just as true as it is old-fashioned, and not likely to be adopted by young men generally. However, we will give the rule, for, perhaps, some would like to read it, if nothing more. The secret is not in earning, but in saving. Almost any man can earn money, but few can keep it. A small sum is disregarded; yet a large one is only several small ones united. Unless little sums are laid together how can there be a great one? Suppose a person saves a cent every day; at the end of a year he has $3 65—at the end of thirty years, about $109, including interest. How easy it is for a man to save a cent a day! How many can save ten cents a day!—$36 50 a year, or about $1,000 in twenty years, including interest. He who spends ten cents upon some idle fancy—for instance, in drink, cigars, fruit, etc., should at the same time reflect that he thus throws away the interest of a dollar for a year. Are there not often occasions in the course of a day when a person spends ten cents, or five cents, which he might avoid without feeling the worse for it? There go ten cents—his $1,000 in twenty years—the very interest of which would perpetually afford him and his heirs a clear income of $120 per annum. Many grow rich by saving, with very little facility for earning. Some old men have always lived well, and are very rich by mere saving, but who did not earn so much daily as their neighbors. They did not foolishly buy things which they could just as well do without; and therefore have money to lend, while others are obliged to borrow. This is economy; but join industry, and wealth accumulates fast.—[Golden City.

THE POWER OF IMAGINATION.—The Easton Free Press says that a man named Roberts, living near New Germantown, in Huntington county, Pennsylvania, some months since, while driving a strange dog off his premises, was slightly bitten in the leg by the animal. He had heard that within nine days after being bitten by a rabid dog, hydrophobia would show itself, and, believing that the canine by which he had been bitten was mad, his imagination at once suggested this disease as the result, and he awaited with fear and trembling the coming of the fatal day. The time arrived, and a neighbor visiting him about noon, found him kicking about, foaming at the mouth, and going through other antics that mad men usually perform. As soon as Roberts saw his visitor he made for him, barking like a dog, while the other, frightened out of his wits, rushed out of the house, followed by the seeming mad man. Over the fields and fences they went, the visitor straining every nerve, quickening his steps with the energy that his fear imparted to him, and Roberts jumping, raving and barking after the frightened man. After a long chase they reached the village, both thoroughly tired and out of wind, and believing that Roberts must have some crazy streak in his noddle, they surrounded him, threw him down, and binding him securely had him conveyed to his house. Physicians having been summoned, they at once pronounced the man to be a victim of delusion, with no more madness than they had themselves, and as free from hydrophobia as the bed in which he lay. After a short time he was convinced of having made a great fool of himself, and, fearing the ridicule of his neighbors, he sold out his farm, left the country, and has never since been heard of by the residents near his old home.

A BACHELOR friend is about getting married for no other reason than to have some one to take care of him when he is ill. The treatment he received at a fashionable boarding-house, the last time he had the ague, has cured him not only of single life, but single bedsteads and mattresses. He ordered, he says, the servants to bring him some gruel on Monday morning, but which he never got till Wednesday afternoon. During his confinement, not a single soul visited him save the young gentleman who cleaned the knives; he came not for the purpose of consolation, but to inform him that missus would be much obliged to him if he would do his shaking on a chair so as not to shake the bedstead apart!

CAUTION.—The next time a gallon of kerosene oil comes home, pour out some into a saucer, light a match, and when it is thoroughly on fire, drop it into the saucer. If the oil extinguishes the match without taking fire, use it; you can rely upon it being safe as powder, at least. If, however, the oil ignites and blazes up like spirits, send it out of the house immediately, for it would explode merely from the friction of turning down the wick.

California Lands.

On this subject, the Sacramento Union says:

The lands of California, fit for cultivation, have been roughly estimated at from sixty to seventy million acres—or four hundred thousand farms of 160 acres each. This we think an exaggeration. The area of this State is but one hundred and fifteen million acres. At least half of this is covered by the great mountain chains east and west and their spurs, which in the extreme north and south shoot out in every direction, leaving only here and there a small valley of tillable land to thousands of square miles of uninhabitable mountains. The good land, such as honest men would hold out as an inducement to come here and settle, cannot be reckoned upon as more than a quarter of the whole area of the State—twenty-eight to thirty millions of acres. But most of this is to be classed among the very best land in the world. The Mississippi Valley can show nothing like it in capacity for cereals, and no country surpasses, while few equal, it in versatility of production. Here in Sacramento county—a region considerably below the average for wheat—we have reliable authority that sixty-five bushels have been grown to the acre on large fields and with slovenly cultivation. In San Joaquin Valley, between the Mokelumne and Millerton, there are two and a half millions of acres, which, with good cultivation, in average seasons, might be relied upon for thirty bushels to the acre. The upper Sacramento Valley has as much of the same sort of land, and the Tulare region nearly as much. The smaller valleys, in contact with the waters of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays, aggregate several million acres of still better land. The very best wheat lands of the State are those of Santa Clara and Pajaro Valleys, where we have heard of seventy and eighty bushels being harvested to the acre. The corn lands of California are quite limited. The best of them are on the Cosumnes, on Russian river, in San Bernardino and Tulare counties. Anywhere, even in the foot-hills, where staple cereals are not much grown, the soil and climate are all that could be desired for the grape, fruits and vegetables of every sort. These foot-hills produce fine grapes, and better wine and fruits than the richest valley lands. They can be had at Government prices, and are of great extent. In the Los Angeles country the staple crops are grapes, oranges, lemons and semi-tropical fruits. The lands are covered by old Mexican titles, and cannot be bought for less than ten to twenty dollars per acre. Irrigation is extensively used there and in San Bernardino. In the last named county the lands are cheaper, climate warmer, and productions about the same as in Los Angeles, but waiting on a railroad for a convenient market. In the great valleys of the San Joaquin, Sacramento and Tulare Lake, only the choicest sections, nearest a ready market, are occupied. There are still hundreds of thousands of acres open for entry at Government prices. In the counties south and east on the bay of San Francisco, there is no land worth settling upon open for entry. Choice farms there, with unclouded titles, are worth as much per acre as the best lands in twenty or thirty miles of Cincinnati—intrinsically a great deal more. On the north side of the bay, however, there is room for thousands of families who can now secure first rate wheat and corn lands at one, two and three dollars per acre. The valleys of Russian and Eel rivers are not surpassed in their natural capabilities for farming. They embrace every essential quality of a good farm—excellent soil, abundance of water and timber, a perfectly healthy climate, and easy access by projected railways which must soon be built to points on the bay. They are preferable to the great valleys of the interior on account of the better supply of timber. The two large counties of Mendocino and Humboldt, now almost a wilderness, are destined to support a rural population equal to that of the present rural population of the whole State.

We have two other classes of uninhabited lands worthy of mention to immigrants: The tide or tule lands at the mouths of the San Joaquin and Sacramento, and the small valleys in and east of the Sierra Nevada. They can be had at Government prices. The tide lands are among the richest in the world, but they cost great labor to reclaim them. Nevertheless they are worth it. An acre of this tide land, ditched and raised and fixed for convenient irrigation in the autumnal months, will produce as much as five or six acres of the best valley land. We know of several such places, reclaimed by much labor, not exceeding ten or fifteen acres in extent, from which their owners every year realize as much in fruits and vegetables—of the latter they raise two crops with ease—as they could from farms of one to two hundred acres of the best valley lands. A great advantage of these tide lands is that they never wear out, never need manure and never will. They are of great extent and readily secured. The valleys in the Sierra Nevada are small and cold, but healthy and productive, with generally a home market at high prices for all they produce.

For the farmer no part of the United States holds out equal inducements with California. Our soil produces everything, and our climate is incomparable. Our winters are not more inclement than the Western March and April, while our summers, though hot, are nearly everywhere healthy, and our market is improving with the increase of production.

THE ladies of the congregation of a learned doctor in the West, lately determined to present him with a pulpit-gown. The doctor, on the Sunday after it was presented, intimated to the people of the church:

"The ladies have been kind enough to present me with a pulpit-gown; but lest any member should object to my wearing it, I shan't put it on yet, and will hear objections to it on Thursday night."

Nobody came to object but an old lady. The doctor said:

"Well, Janet, what objections have you to the pulpit-gown?"

"Well, sir," said Janet, "we never read of the Apostle Paul wearing a gown."

"You are quite right, Janet," said the doctor; "but your objections are quite unreasonable, for we never heard of St. Paul wearing breeches, either, ma'am."

BREAD CAST ON THE WATERS.—A young man living in New York at the time of the discovery of gold in California, was led by the prevailing excitement to sell all he had here and travel to that land of promise. He arrived safely, made his way to the mountains, and worked hard for months, but with little success. Soon his money was gone, his clothes nearly worn out, and he must starve or find his way back to San Francisco, and find employment there. He started on foot, and slowly made his jouney. One afternoon he came to the bank of a stream which must be crossed. A ferryman was ready with a row boat.

"What is your charge?" asked the traveler.

"One dollar, sir."

"Well, I shall have to travel up the stream until I can find a crossing place."

"Are you hard up?" asked the ferryman.

"I am dead broke," was the desponding reply.

"Jump in, I'm not the man to send a fellow adrift"—and with a few vigorous strokes they were soon in the middle of the stream. Here the boatman stopped rowing, and, looking into his face, asked:

"Is your name Jones?"

"Yes," replied the other, with a start at finding himself recognized.

"Didn't your father belong to the church in —— street?"

"Yes."

"I thought so;" and with that he drew from his pocket a bag, and commenced counting out gold pieces. "I have made five hundred dollars by ferrying passengers; here are three hundred of them for you. You can pay me when you are flush, or if that don't happen, then all right. You think I am crazy, perhaps," continued he, observing the astonished looks of the traveler, "but I was never in better senses in my life. When I was a little boy, and mother was a poor widow, many a time has your father visited our home, and when he had gone, somewhere about the room we would find money for a barrel of flour, or to pay the rent, when we knew not before where it was to come from; and as long as I live, if I have only a crust, when I find one of his sons in want, he shall get the larger half."

The loan was gratefully accepted; by its aid the traveler was able to reach San Francisco, earn enough to repay his benefactor, and return safely to his home. The story, with the exception of the name, is a true one, related by the traveler himself, illustrating the precept, "Cast thy bread upon the waters; for thou shalt find it after many days."—[New York paper.

THE WILD WOMAN.—In the Grand Cane neighborhood in this county, a short time ago, a gentleman in the depths of the forest, suddenly came upon a woman, as wild and almost as fleet and untamed as a deer. After a brisk chase of some distance, the gentleman on horseback, overtook the wonderful creature, when she halted, and he found her to be a medium-sized, middle-aged, well-formed woman, with long, dark hair, and with clear, blue eyes. She was in a state of nudity, save a girdle of gray moss about her loins. Her body and limbs were covered with a beautiful coat of hair about four inches in length. She was much frightened and seemed unable to talk, but must have comprehended signs, as, in reply to motions of the gentleman by which he sought to induce her to accompany him out of the woods, she constantly pointed to her forest home. Finally, the gentleman endeavored to compel her to go the way he desired, by getting before her, when she, becoming enraged, seized a club and turned upon him with the fury of a demon, and it was only by the speed imparted to his steed by a liberal use of the spurs, that he kept out of the way. After driving off her pursuer, she resumed the direction she had so constantly pointed, and was soon out of sight. The gentleman followed, and, after going some distance, came upon her home. Three trees, standing near each other, in a triangular form, with spaces between them walled up with brush and moss, she had made her moss bed between them, secure from the rude blasts of winter, and comparatively secure from the pitiless rain. The only stores discovered were a few nuts and some four or five bushels of corn. Very wild stories of this wild woman have been rife in the upper part of this county for some time, but she was believed to be a myth by all except those who claimed to have had glimpses of her. Now, however, her existence, description, and the vicinity, at least, of her whereabouts, is established beyond controversy. Her early capture may be regarded as within the range of probability, as concentrated efforts are being made to that end.—[Liberty (Texas) Gazette.

A STORY FOR SWEARERS.—A gentleman once heard a laboring man swear terribly in the presence of a number of his companions. He told him it was a cowardly thing to swear so in company, when he dared not do it by himself. The man said he was not afraid to swear at any time at any place.

"I will give you ten dollars," said the gentleman, "if you will go into the village church-yard, at twelve o'clock to-night, and swear the same oaths which you have uttered here, when you are alone with your God."

"Agreed!" said the man, "'tis an easy way of earning ten dollars!" "Well, you come to me to-morrow, and say you have done it, and the money is yours."

The time passed on; midnight came. The man went to the grave-yard. It was a night of pitchy darkness. As he entered the grave-yard not a sound was heard; all was as still as death. The gentleman's words, "all alone with God," came over him with wonderful power. The thought of the wickedness he had committed, and what he came there to do, darted through his mind like a flash of lightning. He trembled at his folly. Afraid to take another step, he fell on his knees, and instead of the dreadful oaths he came there to utter, the earnest cry went up: "God be merciful to me, a sinner!"

The next day he went to the gentleman, and thanked him for what he had done, and said he had resolved not to swear another oath as long as he lived.

IN society we learn to know others, but in solitude we acquire a knowledge of ourselves.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

SATURDAY, : : : : APRIL 25, 1868.

WHY IS IT?—Is it not strange that the party which looks to General Grant as its standard-bearer does not make some attempt to vindicate him from charges of intemperance, incapacity as a statesman, and a disregard of veracity? Does the mere fact that a man is an acknowledged military hero entitle him, in the estimation of Radicals, to the position as chief of a great nation? Can it be said that the grave charges made against Grant were manufactured by his personal enemies or political opponents? Not so. These charges have as often been made by men who, it is fair to presume, were his personal friends, and whose political faith is in consonance with his own ideas, as otherwise. A simple reference to the oft-repeated charge of intemperance, and a glance at the indorsement of that charge by well-known Radical Republicans, is, or ought to be, proof that such accusation is not made solely upon political grounds. On this point, will our Republican friends ignore the testimony of Wendell Phillips, who publicly states that "rumors reach us from Washington, coming from different and trustworthy sources that General Grant has been seen unmistakably drunk in the streets of that city"? But this is not all. Theodore Tilton and others have added their testimony to the effect that "Grant has been seen reeling in drunkenness on Sunday morning in the streets of Washington."

Regarding his capacity as a statesman, there is certainly no evidence in his favor which would justify him in claiming a high political position. On the contrary, his own friends have repeatedly testified that in "defining his position" he has chosen for the subject of his discourses the qualities of horses and dogs, and left his Radical worshipers wofully in the dark concerning his "views" on important questions. But perhaps it is enough for them to know that he yields, or is supposed to yield, a blind obedience to their infamous plans without having any opinions of his own. His position in the Johnson-Stanton imbroglio has been clearly defined by abundant evidence; and if in the question of veracity, that arose between himself and the President in that affair, there can be found anything consoling to Grant's conscience, it is truly unfortunate that such a mountain of testimony should exist on record to-day in favor of the truth of the President's statement, and placing Grant in the unenviable position of a public calumniator.

In all these charges the evidence has been damaging to the character—public and private—of General Grant, and it remains to be seen whether the Radical party will attempt his vindication.

NOT IN THE FIELD.—J. D. Hambleton, of San Francisco, an earnest worker in the Democratic vineyard, and an eloquent advocate of a white man's Government, in answer to many requests of warm friends, has stated that he is not and will not be a candidate for Congress in the First Congressional District. The bold and manly stand which he has taken and sustained so efficiently in opposition to Radical misrule during the reign of terror, entitles him to the honorable consideration of every patriot in the land; and if justice prevails, the future will reward him in a manner commensurate with his valuable services and undoubted ability.

"STICK," AND "STAND FIRM."—This is the advice given by Radical Senators to the infamous Stanton, who shields himself in his position behind a law which he openly declared to be unconstitutional. Any other course would not have entitled him to the hypocritical fawning of his pretended friends, who use him as a tool for perfidious purposes. Verily, the standard of honor is growing diminutive in the ranks of the Radicals!

DEMOCRATIC PAPER IN SANTA CRUZ.—A movement is on foot to establish a Democratic paper in Santa Cruz county. A committee, consisting of A. Hagan, H. Imus, E. Bender, J. Bagnell and W. Miner, has taken charge of the matter. Knowing the character of Judge Hagan, we feel safe in saying that the enterprise will meet with success.

MORE COMING.—The California "fever" seems to have broken out afresh in the Eastern States, and thousands of young men are preparing to start for California. Want of employment is no doubt the reason for the contemplated change of base. There is plenty of room here for the exercise of muscle.

HUMBUG.—It is now stated that the Sweetwater mines are a grand humbug. The glowing accounts of untold treasures in that region, which appeared in the papers all over the country, have no doubt deluded many a poor "prospector" who would be glad to return to his home if able to do so.

THE more we read of the early life of General Grant in the New York Ledger, says the Louisville Journal, the more our admiration is excited by the extraordinary attachment of the little Ulysses to horses. He must have had a mare for a wet nurse.

WOOLEN MILL IN OREGON.—A woolen mill is to be erected at Waitsburg, Oregon. The necessary stock has been subscribed, the company organized, and the enterprise will prove a success.

CROPS IN SANTA CLARA.—The prospect for a large crop of wheat and barley is said to be fine in Santa Clara county.

ELECTED.—B. F. Washington has been elected President of the Tide Land Commissioners.

RAINFALL.—The total rainfall this season in San Francisco is set down at 38½ inches.

The Railroad Question.

In our last issue we published and briefly commented upon the late Act of the Legislature, authorizing a vote of the county upon the question of donating bonds, to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars, to the "California Pacific Railroad," conditioned that within eighteen months the said road shall be fully completed and in running order from Vallejo, in Solano county, to Sacramento, and from Putah Creek, crossing the Willow Slough west of Dr. Merritt's residence, through Woodland to Knight's Landing; and the more we think and learn of the matter, the more we are convinced of its great importance, and that we should not hesitate a moment in granting the aid asked for. On the 16th of next month the voters of the county will be called upon to decide whether one of the finest and richest portions of the State shall remain virtually shut out from the rest of the world, for an indefinite time longer, or whether for the donation required we may be immediately placed in direct railroad connection with Sacramento, Knight's Landing and Vallejo, and thereby with the entire railroad system of the State and Nation.

The fact that the road is to be completed and in running order, within eighteen months, before the county is to become liable for a single dollar, seems to be so fair a proposition that it is difficult to see any objection to it, for it is certain that unless the road is built the county pays nothing; and if it is built, we respectfully suggest that we can easily afford the donation. The road, in our county, will cost one million dollars, a large portion of which must be expended within our border, and each and every citizen will directly or indirectly feel the benefit thereof. In an improvement of this kind, passing our own doors and costing such a large sum of money, is it requiring too much to ask us to contribute one dollar in ten? Or will not our refusal to contribute tend to show that we do not want railroads, and thus have the effect of driving capital from us? These are considerations that every well-wisher of the county should ponder and act upon, for the good of the whole people, regardless of any local feeling.

Solano county voted ten years ago to subscribe $200,000 to this road, and paid $100,000 of the money at that time, and by an Act approved March 26th, 1868, the Board of Supervisors of that county are directed to transfer to the present Railroad Company all the stock held by said county, and to issue the remaining $100,000, in bonds, as soon as the road is finished to Putah Creek. We understand that it was represented to the delegation in the Legislature, from that county, that such immediate aid was necessary to save the iron and rolling-stock from forced sale, under direction of the English owners; and we are informed that in addition to such county aid, three gentlemen were compelled to mortgage their private estates to carry on the construction of the road from Vallejo to Sacramento; we are also informed that it is with the utmost difficulty that means can be obtained sufficient to complete the road to Sacramento, and that it will not be continued further, in this direction, without the aid asked for from Yolo county—at least not for several years, or until dividends from the completed road shall warrant the Company in constructing the road to Knight's Landing. The fact that the Company is pressed for means will not appear strange when it is remembered that no aid, from either county, State, or National Government, has as yet been received by it, but that all the funds have been supplied by three persons, who own all the stock. It is well understood that railroads are always built on a cash capital of about one-quarter of their cost, the balance being raised by a mortgage bond on the road, upon the calculation that the receipts of the road, when finished, will pay the interest on the bond and create a sinking fund to pay off the principal as soon as possible.

In a few months Marysville will be connected with San Francisco by rail via Sacramento and Stockton, when one of the great inducements to build a road through Yolo county will be gone—the trade of that portion of the State having been diverted in another direction. In fact, it is now admitted by the Vallejo Company that their road, if it passes through our county at all, will have its terminus at Knight's Landing,—at least for many years—which would have the effect of building a large town there at once. Washington will also be a terminus for some time, which, together with the strong embankment of the road in the upper end of that town, will protect it from overflow and give it new life. A town of considerable importance will grow up at Davis'; a depot at Dr. Merritt's will accommodate all our friends at Buckeye and that part of the county; citizens of Cacheville and vicinity can be in San Francisco in three hours after they leave home; hundreds of thousands of dollars will be saved to the county, annually, in the way of freight, time, sacks, and the ready sale, at good prices, of such articles as butter, eggs, chickens, etc., now lost for the want of a market.

In concluding this article we desire to say that in case the people see fit to make the donation, our taxes will not be increased, and we will get the whole amount back many fold, long before the debt is due; the road itself will be taxed at over $300,000, and the building up and improving three or four towns, and the general increase of the value of property cannot be set down at less than $1,000,000; then the natural increase of values—taking that of last year as a guide—will be over $200,000, making in all, an increase of $1,500,000 by the time the road is finished, which at our present low rate of taxation, will produce nearly double the amount required to pay the interest and sinking fund account of the $100,000 asked for. So, unless all experience fails, the railroad instead of costing us anything, will be the means of reducing taxation and putting money into our treasury. In addition to this, it is estimated by our county officials that our farmers paid over $200,000 last year for sacks, all of which will be saved by shipping grain in bulk,—a large steam elevator being now under contract at Vallejo, to receive and ship direct to foreign markets all the grain of this section of country, which will enable the buyer at that point to give as much or more for wheat at Woodland, or any where on the line of the road, than can be paid for it at Maine Landing; the producer thereby saving the freight of at least five dollars per ton.

LATEST TELEGRAPH NEWS.—We are indebted to the Capital Reporter for the following items by telegraph:

WILMINGTON (N. C.), April 22.—The election commenced to-day, and is passing off quietly. The Constitution is greatly ahead on the first day's voting. The whites will make their greatest efforts on the last day's election.

JACKSON, (Miss.), April 21.—Quite an emeute occurred in the Mississippi Convention last week. The Convention, by a vote of 44 to 25, adopted a franchise article which sweepingly disfranchises all who participated in the rebellion, except all persons who aided in reconstruction by voting for this Convention, but allows the Legislature to remove the disability by a two-thirds vote.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A World's Washington dispatch says Conness of California and Thayer of Nebraska, are candidates for the Secretaryship of the Interior under Wade.

A Times Washington dispatch says Wade will return Sheridan to New Orleans, and Secretary McCulloch will go to New York to reside, Welles will remain in Washington, and Seward will go to Auburn. Senator Fessenden will probably have the mission to England.

Senator Nye is seriously ill.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—The first direct shipment of wheat to New York in bulk, left here yesterday. A cargo of 25,000 bushels was shipped via New Orleans. It is proposed to ship grain in bulk from St. Louis to Liverpool.

MACON (Ga.), April 22.—Accounts from south-western Georgia, where negroes are largely in the ascendant, are highly favorable to the Democrats. The conservatives are hopeful of the result of the election. No disturbances are reported anywhere.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Court of Impeachment consumed the opening hour of the session in discussing the question how many final arguments should be allowed. After considerable discussion it was finally agreed that as many managers and counsel for the President as desire be allowed to file written arguments or address the Senate orally, provided the final oral argument be made by one person only. Mr. Curtis stated that Mr. Stanbery's indisposition was such that it would be impracticable for him to take any further part in the proceedings.

SAD AFFAIR.—A correspondent of the Sacramento Union, writing from Aurora, April 12th, gives the following account of the shooting of Col. Gill by O. L. Mathews, with some strange sequels to the affair. Judge Mathews was formerly a resident of Woodland, and was for some time President of the Hesperian College, the duties of which position he performed in an able manner. His many warm friends who regard him as a quiet, inoffensive gentlemen regret the sad occurrence:

C. Parker, the stage agent, informs me that last week at or near Fort Independence, Inyo county, ex-County Judge Oscar L. Mathews went to the house of Colonel Gill, they both being married and their children in the custom of visiting. The Judge apparently went to inquire into the propriety of their so doing. The Colonel was not at home at the time, and on his returning he took a cowhide whip and went in pursuit of the Judge to exercise the strength of his muscle with the whip upon his back; but on his approach the Judge drew a pistol and shot him dead. D. B. Blaney, formerly of Aurora, and now Coroner, while holding an inquest on the body, was taken with a fit, followed by convulsions, that caused his death, the shock of which upon his wife was so great as to produce a premature confinement, and when the stage left she was lying at the point of death. Blaney leaves seven children. Mathews was arrested and held to answer.

FALL OF WORMS.—We learn from a friend that a shower of worms fell at Port Wine recently, covering the snow in the vicinity of the school house. The "animals" were alive and kicking, and about an inch and a half in length, and when handled, curled themselves into a perfectly round ring. Their color was a shining black. Where—oh, where did these worms come from? Will nobody answer?—[Downieville Messenger.

Sorry to learn that the Messenger has got worms, and don't know where they come from.

NEW PAPER AT MARTINEZ.—We learn that Alex. Montgomery has taken the management of the California Express (the first number of which has been received), now being published at Martinez. The Express, as of old, will be the warm supporter of Democratic principles, and we wish it success.

SUFFERING AMONG THE INDIANS.—Numerous accounts represent a pitiable condition of the Indian tribes of Dakota. In many of their lodges they have been without game all Winter, and it is feared that wholesale starvation will ensue unless immediate relief is received in the shape of substantial supplies.

WILL RESIGN.—Stanton says he will resign his position as Secretary of War as soon as a loyal President is installed.—[Exchange.

Stanton will resign his position as soon as his mission is fulfilled as the willing tool of a corrupt Congress.

SNOW SHOE RACES.—The citizens of Howland Flat, Sierra county, are indulging in the sport of racing over the snow on snow-shoes. Fifty persons sometimes compete for a prize in a single race.

FOR PENDLETON.—The Illinois Democratic State Convention has nominated a full State ticket, and elected delegates to the National Democratic Convention pledged to support Pendleton. The platform adopted denounces the Radical plan of reconstruction, and the impeachment movement; favors the payment of the national debt in greenbacks; opposes the present tariff system; favors the abolishing of national banks and replacing their issues with greenbacks, and favors the taxing of United States bonds.

CURIOSITY.—Six women in San Francisco dressed in men's clothing last week for the purpose of attending a lecture, designed for men only to hear. One of the fair half-dozen was recognized at the door by a policeman and arrested; the other five went in.

BUCKING.—The Radical black team, in Louisiana, don't seem to work well together. The darkies are bucking in the harness and jumping over the traces. Some of them voted the wrong ticket, and will have to be disfranchised.

H. P. BARBER, of Tuolumne, is prominently urged by the Democracy of the Southern mining counties as a candidate for Congress in the second district.

FOR H. H. HAIGHT.—The Quincy Union favors the nomination of Governor Haight for President by the National Democratic Convention.

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—Mrs. Washington Wright (Topsy Turvy) is reported very ill at the house of a friend near San Jose.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE.—On Sunday last at Cache Creek Canon, in this county, an old man named Isom Hollar, about 58 years of age, met his death from a dose of strychnine, supposed to have been administered by his own hand. Family difficulties were doubtless instrumental in leading him to the commission of the rash act. It is said that he and his wife have led a most unhappy life for several years past, and that a day or two previous to his death they had separated. At the time of his death he was possessed of money and personal property to the amount of several thousand dollars, which he directed to be distributed lawfully among his children. Some circumstances of the case aroused a suspicion in the minds of the neighbors that the poison had been administered to the old man by another party; but the evidence before the Coroner's jury seems to have proven a case of suicide, and it was so stated in their verdict.

NEW STAGE LINE.—We are informed by Cyrus Cutter, of the firm of M. Cutter & Bro., that arrangements have been completed for starting their stage line on the route between Woodland and Suisun, in a few days. The stages will make three trips a week, leaving Woodland at 4 o'clock, A. M., and connecting with a San Francisco boat at Suisun City at 9 A. M. This will be good news for the traveling public. Instead of the present inconvenient and tedious mode of travel, passengers will be enabled to make a speedy trip to the Bay, passing over a beautiful country, arriving in San Francisco within ten hours after leaving Woodland. Success to the enterprise.

DESTRUCTIVE INSECT.—We have been shown by J. Tarbuck, of this place, a species of insect which he informs us is creating sad havoc among apple, pear, and mulberry trees on his premises and in the neighborhood. The depredator seems to be a stranger in these parts, no one being able to identify him with any previous visitation of pests. The bug is about one-third of an inch in length, brown in color, and has a voracious appearance. It bores into the wood, cutting off branches as large as a man's finger. It seems not disposed to trouble any other kinds of vegetation except those mentioned.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.—A Convention called by order of the Democratic County Central Committee will be held at the Court House to-day at 2 P. M. It is expected that a fair representation from all the precincts will be present. Yolo is entitled to five delegates in the Democratic State Convention to be held in San Francisco on the 29th instant. In view of the important work to be done, it is necessary that great care should be exercised in the selection of delegates.

RAILROAD MEETING.—A meeting of citizens convened at Heath's Hall on Thursday evening to consider the railroad question. Wm. Minis was called to the chair and E. Giddings elected Secretary. Hon. L. B. Mizner was present, by invitation, and delivered an eloquent address in favor of the proposed road. At the close of his remarks, a vote, taken for the purpose of testing the sense of the meeting on the subject, resulted in a unanimous "aye."

PUBLIC LANDS.—Nothing shows the material prosperity of our county so plainly as the rush to secure Government lands. C. S. Frost informs us that applications for pre-emption claims are increasing rapidly. Mr. Frost having received from the Land Office, Marysville, the necessary blanks, persons can now save the time and expense of a trip to Marysville by calling at his office, in Woodland, and making their declaratory statement. *

THANKSGIVING.—The members of Woodland Lodge, No. 111, will attend divine service at the Methodist Church, in commemoration of the introduction of Odd Fellowship in the United States, to-morrow at 11 A. M., that being the anniversary of the event. The sermon will be preached by Rev. W. C. Curry. The public are invited to attend.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB.—The regular meeting of the Woodland Democratic Club on Thursday evening was well attended. It was addressed by J. C. Ball, M. A. Woods and others. A number of new names were added to the roll of members. This Club is a live institution and its record in November next will be a good one.

PICNICS.—The Christian and Methodist Sunday Schools are making lively preparations for their annular May Day picnics. The delightful weather which has prevailed during the past week is a good omen for the little folks who enjoy such pastimes with so much gusto. We hope they will have a pleasant time.

SUIT FOR BROKERAGE.—A suit for $2,442 brokerage on the sale of eight thousand acres of land in Yolo county, has been commenced in a San Francisco Court. Plaintiff, Josiah Fuller; defendant, C. W. Reed. So says a special to the Capital Reporter.

ARRESTED.—A petty thief, named Sweeny, was arrested in Sacramento on Tuesday morning for stealing a bedquilt from J. W. Crandall, of Washington, in this county. The stolen property was found in possession of the thief.

RECOVERED.—The two horses which were stolen from the stable of Q. V. Day, of which we made mention last week, have been recaptured by the owner. The thieves are, however, still at large.

MAY DAY BALL.—The Committee of Arrangements for the Ball on next Friday evening, May 1st, at Elliott's Hall, are sparing no pains to make it the grandest affair of the season. Good music has been engaged for the occasion.

DEGREE OF REBECKAH.—Woodland Lodge, No. 111, I.O.O.F., will meet in the Degree of Rebeckah, on Monday evening. All Odd Fellows in good standing are invited to attend.

CHANGED BASE.—Our friend H. G. Burnett has removed his law office and library to the building opposite Gray & Freeman's store.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The next regular meeting of the Board will be held on Monday, May 4th.

COUNTY COURT.—Regular session, second Monday in next month.

A LAKE MONSTER—RIVAL OF THE SEA-SERPENT.—About two weeks ago, (says the Mendocino Democrat.) Mr. Hendrick, the owner of the Blue Lake Wagon Road, while engaged with some men in cleaning out slides which had taken place during the storm, observed, in looking out upon the lake, a huge monster, about thirty feet long, and, as our informant expressed it, as thick round as a barrel, rise to the surface, move gradually up the lake some distance, and disappear. In a few moments he again rose to the surface, moved back to the place where he first appeared, again sank, and was seen no more. This story is vouched for by the men who accompanied Hendricks, and there is no room to doubt its correctness. We are further informed that Peter Parish, of Lake county, beheld two monsters somewhat similar to the one above described in the same lake last Fall.

LET IT COME.—Frank Stewart, a scientific gentleman, recently delivered a lecture at San José, in which he stated that the moon would before long lay herself to rest upon the bosom of Mother Earth. Let it come gently, or somebody will get moon-struck.

SACRILEGE.—Some scoundrel has defaced the Parker Monument in the Odd Fellows' cemetery, San Francisco. The society has offered a reward for his apprehension. It is to be hoped that the guilty one may be detected and dealt with as he deserves.

MAKING A MATCH.—It is said that in olden times a Persian girl who owned a little property was authorized to pick out a husband for herself. If the custom should be revived during the present century, what a host of forlorn bachelors would go to seed.

INCORPORATED.—The Vallejo Elevator Company have incorporated. They will build a grain elevator and warehouse at the terminus of the California Pacific Railroad.

DISMISSED.—The pilot, Jolliffe, who wrecked the Viscata, near the Golden Gate, has been dismissed from the service by the Pilot Commissioners.

GETTING DESPERATE.—Several attempts at highway robbery have recently been made on the streets of San Francisco.

ELASTIC STITCH
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES,
Are the best in Use,
FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

They are more simple and durable easier kept in order, make a stronger and more elastic stitch, a firmer and more beautiful seam than any other. They sew all fabrics from two common spools, require no re-winding of thread, fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation, and though every fifth stitch is cut the seam will not rip.

They Stitch, Hem, Fell, Cord, Bind, Tuck, Quilt, Gather, Braid, and Embroider. No other machine Embroiders, as well as Sews perfectly.

STOP THAT COUGHING.

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure, but is really the very best remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of persons in California and Oregon have been already benefited by the surprising curative powers of

and with one accord give it their unqualified approbation. We now address ourselves to all who are unacquainted with this, the greatest Panacea of the age, for the healing of all diseases of the throat and lungs, assuring you that has cured thousands and it will cure you if you try it.

This invaluable medicine is pleasant to the taste, soothing, healing and strengthening in its effects, entirely free from all poisonous and deleterious drugs, and perfectly harmless under all circumstances.

Certificates from many prominent citizens of San Francisco accompany every bottle of Newell's Pulmonary Syrup.

REDINGTON & CO.'S

Extract of Jamaica Ginger.

This valuable preparation containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for whilst it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasm that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes.

It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Neuralgia, etc.

It keeps the hair soft and glossy.
It changes the hair to its original color.
It prevents the hair falling out.
It prevents premature baldness.
It makes old heads look young, and, in fact it will do all expected of a good, genuine Hair Restorer.

Twenty thousand heads remind us
What a noble test it's stood;
Millions more shall come behind us,
With their tresses all renewed.

Do not be humbugged by buying any other preparation. Try it, by all means try it and you will never regret it.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

Squandered Lives.

The fisherman wades in the surges;
The sailor sails over the seas;
The soldier steps bravely to battle;
The woodman lays ax to the trees.

They are each of the breed of the heroes,
The manhood attempted in strife;
Strong hands that go lightly to labor,
True hearts that take comfort in strife.

In each is the seed to replenish
The world with the vigor it needs—
The center of honest affections,
The impulse to generous deeds.

But the shark drinks the blood of the fisher;
The sailor is dropped in the sea;
The soldier lies cold by his cannon;
The woodman is crushed by his tree.

Each prodigal life that is wasted
In many achievements unseen,
But lengthens the days of the coward,
And strengthens the crafty and mean.

The blood of the noble is lavished
That selfish a profit may find:
God sees the lives that are squandered,
And we to His wisdom are blind.

A MAN traveling entered a tavern, and seeing no one present but the landlord and a negro, seated himself and entered into conversation with the negro. Shortly he asked Sambo if he was dry. Sambo said he was. Stranger told him to go to the bar and take something at his expense. Negro did so, and shortly left. Landlord says to the stranger: "Are you acquainted with that nigger?" No, never saw him before. But why do you ask?" "I supposed so, from your conversing with him, and asking him to drink." "Oh," said the stranger, "I was only experimenting. The fact is, I was dry myself, and I thought that if your liquor didn't kill the negro in fifteen minutes, I would take a drink myself."

A FOREIGNER who heard of the Yankee propensity for bragging, thought he would beat the natives at their own game. Seeing some very large watermelons on a market woman's stand, he exclaimed, "What! don't you raise larger apples than these in America?" The quick-witted woman immediately replied, "Apples! anybody might know you were a foreigner, them's gooseberries!"

THE President of the Montreal Typographical Union said in a speech at the anniversary of that society, the other day, that "printers form most obedient, indulgent and loving husbands." This gratifying and touching tribute to the domestic virtues of the printer struck a chord in many tender hearts, and the type of men thus praised will be set up in the world's estimation henceforth.

SCARED.—A remarkable phenomenon has appeared at Scottsville (Ill) From pits dug to the depth of five or six feet, flames burst forth with a strong smell of sulphur. The inhabitants are said to be very much alarmed, and a revival is said to be imminent.

AN old bachelor in New York offered a young lady a pony for a kiss. She gave him the kiss. He refused her the pony. She sued him. He pleaded "no consideration." The Court decided that a kiss was a legal consideration, and made him "pony up."

IT is claimed that New Orleans possesses more miles of street railroad than any city of its size in the world. Each car is drawn by a single mule, and in default of a conductor, each passenger drops his own fare into a glass box near the driver.

"WHAT are you going to give me for a Christmas present?" asked a gay young damsel of her lover. "I have nothing to give but my humble self," was the reply. "The smallest favors gratefully received," was the reponse.

A LITTLE BOY'S THOUGHTS."—"What a beautiful place Heaven is!" said a little boy not four years old. "Why do you think so?" said his mother. "Because," said he, pointing to the stars, "the nails of the floor are so beautiful."

A NEGRO who had learned to read, wishing to give an idea of it to some of his acquaintances who had never seen a book, said, "Reading is the power of hearing with the eyes instead of the ears."

Democratic State Convention.

At a meeting of the DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, held in San Francisco on the 27th and 28th of February, 1868, it was

Resolved, That a Democratic State Convention be held in the city of San Francisco on WEDNESDAY, APRIL TWENTY-NINTH, at noon, to nominate Ten Delegates to the Democratic National Convention, and Five Electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, and for the transaction of such other business as the Convention may determine.

Delegates to the Conventon will be elected in conformity with the following apportionment, based upon the vote cast for Hon. Henry H. Haight for Governor, giving one Delegate for each County, one for each two hundred Democratic votes, and one for each additional one hundred votes or over.

The following test for qualification to participate in the election of Delegates, was adopted:

All voters opposed to the Radical policy of Congress, to Negro or Chinese suffrage, and in favor of a Constitutional administration of the Government of the whole Union, shall be entitled to vote for Delegates.

The Central ommittee urgently request the different County ommittees of the Democratic Party to call their ounty Conventions for the election of Delegates at as early a date as possible, and to forward to Thos. N. Cazneau, Secretary of the State Central Committee, at the Rooms of the Committee, 321 California street, a full list of their County Committees, officers and members.

The following was unanimously adopted by the Central Committee, and directed to be published for the acceptance of County Committees:

Resolved, That it is recommended to the County Committees that, in their calls for County Conventions, the Delegates elected to the State Convention constitute Congressional Conventions, to meet at the same time and place, to nominate candidates for Congress for their respectiveDistricts, if such are to be elected, and to appoint DistrictCommittees for each Congressional District.

The State Central Committee deem it eminently proper that, in the discharge of their duties to the great majority of the people of the State of California, who are united under the time-honored political organization which the Committee represent, as well as to the great Conservative masses of our people, to express their sentiments upon the momentous issues now threatening the stability of our Government, and have unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Radical majority in Congress, instead of seeking to lighten the burdens of taxation, disregarding both the will of the people and their official oaths in an unnatural pursuit after Negro Equality, having been laboring to usurp the functions of the Executive, degrade the Judiciary, and after committing the indecency of forcing upon the President a Cabinet officer personally offensive to him, and making a military subordinate independent of the orders of the President, thus uniting in their own hands the purse and the sword, they have for the first time presented to the world the disgraceful spectacle of an American President arraigned by a party vote, avowedly for party purposes, before a Senate, more than two thirds of which is composed of his political opponents, and placed on trial for no crime except that of having endeavored to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and the liberties of the people; that in these proceedings the Radical party in Congress have been manifestly actuated by a desire to perpetuate themselves in office, and merit the unqualified condemnation of all good citizens, without distinction of party.

Resolved, That this Committee view with sincere alarm the revolutionary action of the Radical majority in Congress, condemned in the foregoing resolution, believing the same calculated to create wide-spread distrust, and seriously derange the other great interests of the country.

The State Central Committe desire to impress upon the Democratic and Conservative voters of the State the necessity of assembling in their various localities, to form Clubs, and to take active measures for the approaching political campaign that the rights of the people may be preserved, the Constitution upheld, and the Union again united.

By order of the Democratic State Central Committee. J. P. HOGE, President.
THOS. N. CAZNEAU, Secretary.

1835.....INCORPORATED.....1835
NEW ENGLAND
Mutual Life Insurance Co,
OF BOSTON.

DECEMBER 31, 1866,
Cash Assets.....$5,067,382 84.

The Oldest Purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States.

Dividends declared annually. First dividend available at the payment of the second annual premium. All the Policies remain in force so long as there may be any surrender value. Thus a party insuring at the age of thirty-five on Life plan—

1 annual premium continues policy 2 years and 3 days.
2 " " " " 4 years and 12 days.
3 " " " " 6 years and 28 days.
4 " " " " 8 years and 46 days.
5 " " " " 10 years and 56 days.

Careful investigation and unbiased judgment will conclusively show that this old Company offers advantages that cannot be equaled by any other Company doing business on this coast. No stockholders in this Company.

Official Reports made January 1, 1867, show this Company's ratio of Premium Reserve to be larger than any other Company in the United States.

☞ Notes will be taken in part payment of Premiums, drawing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

Home Office, 39 State Street, Boston.
EVERSON & HAINES, General Ag'ts,
Office California Branch, 202 Montgomery st., San Francisco.

"Prove all Things; Hold Fast to that Which is Good!"

This Company does not desire to underrate the merits of any other Company. All it asks is a candid investigation of its merits, and if parties before being "picked up" by traveling solicitors of other Companies will call on me they will be able to see that they can insure cheaper than with any other Company doing business on the Pacific coast.

FAMILY
SEWING MACHINE!
Over 82 Competitors,
— AT THE —
Great Paris Exposition, 1867,

Being the highest honors and all the Gold Medals awarded to any Sewing Machine Company at this Exposition.

As a HOLIDAY

Present, Nothing will be more appreciated THAN ONE OF these MACHINES.

America, England and France, now unite in this grand Proclamation:

Good news! good news the cable brings,
O'er all the wires it flies,
Wheeler & Wilson's sewing machine
Brings back the golden prize.

Our "Uncle Sam" first struck the note,
"John Bull" then caught the sound;
Now comes from France the echo back,
Wheeler & Wilson's crowned.

And now, no more the people doubt,
So long its stood the test—
The thing is fairly noised about
And they will buy the best.

☞ We can now supply those who wish to purchase 'STODDARD'S PATENT TUCK-MARKER,' one of the most useful attachments to the Machine yet invented; which, while sewing one tuck, makes the line of marks for the next.
